SPACE HULK DESIGNATED:
INDOMITABLE PRESENCE

LOCATION: KEBEK SYSTEM, SEGMENTUM SOLAR

Our entire complement of plasma torpedoes and fusion bombs would barely dent a hulk of this size.

Then Kebek II should supply us with reinforcements!

Unlikely. The ForgeWorld's main production is for the Tifen Legion. Their supply of ship-to-ship ordnance is too limited.

If we can not destroy the hulk, then we have no choice; it must be cleansed.

The old fashion way?

Indeed brother...
We hunt.

Brother Decimus,
what can we expect?

Scout team Lupernius confirms a strong presence of Tyranid vanguard organisms.
As we suspected; a seeding Force preparing the ground for invasion.

There is... more.

I see...
Some of the larger Tyranid organisms prowl
this Emperor-Forsaken wreck.
No matter...

... Brother Allarius will be glad to face worthy foes.

There is still more.
A dark island in the waves of the Warp. Stronger than anything I've encountered
so far outside of a Tyranid breeding ship.

Commander, if this hulk hides one of the larger breeder organisms, we must strike quickly.

Then let us hunt Brothers.

Before the Indomitable Presence has a chance to reach the orbit of Kebek IV; it shall be cleansed!

Okay... what's the deal this time?

Really? I thought it was pretty straightforward... Anyways, this is the story of an entire chapter of Adeptus Astartes dedicated to hunting down Tyranids. They are rumored to either be a successor of the Imperial Fists who decided to take the fight to the bugs or a splinter from the Space Wolves who simply enjoy the thrill of the hunt. Regardless, here we find them about to cleanse a Space Hulk in their preferred method: up close and personal.

Space Marines purging a Space Hulk of Tyranids isn't really ground breaking you know?

Sometimes it's nice to revisit the classics and give them a new twist.

Remind me; what's a 'Kebek' again?

'Kebek' is the name of the system where all of our team's armies come from. It's a... very busy system. The word 'Kebek' is an intentional misspelling of our province of origin; Quebec. Since Canada is known for it's igloos, polar bears and endless tracts of snow and ice, and our first army at Adepticon was themed around 'Ice Orks', we had decided they were from the fifth planet in the Kebek system. Yes, yes... next year we'll be back to Kebek V. No, I don't know what we're going to do about that.

Cool comic, but how can I show it off to my buddies at home?

Simple enough, visit jfdubeau.com and you will find a digital version of the comic as well as last year's comic and a bunch of other stuff I'm working on.
